FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

First Nation Communities READ 2020-2021
Announces the Children and Young Adult/Adult
Selected Titles for the PMC Indigenous Literature Award

Toronto September 24, 2020 – First Nation Communities READ 2020-2021 announces the selected titles in the Children’s and YA/Adult Categories. Chosen by a jury of Indigenous librarians from across Ontario, these titles represent the very best of Indigenous literature. The selected titles will be honoured virtually at Word on the Street in Toronto on Sunday September 27, 2020

The PMC Indigenous Literature Award comes with a prize of $3000 for each author.

Children’s Category Selected Title

The Bear’s Medicine by Clayton Gauthier
Published by Theytus Books

How does a mother bear feed her cubs? Off the land of course! Follow mother bear as she teaches her cubs about gratitude for the world around them. This is a story of a mother’s love for her children as she teaches them how to survive.

Clayton Gauthier is Cree/Dakelh from British Columbia. The art he produces revolves around the teachings from Elders, the Spirit within, and Mother Earth. He is a visual artist as well as an author. The Bear’s Medicine is the second book he has written and illustrated.

Young Adult/Adult Selected Title

Chasing Painted Horses by Drew Hayden Taylor
Published by Cormorant Books

When he comes across some graffiti in an alley on a cold winter morning, Ralph Thomas is shocked to recognize the art. He is transported back to his childhood on the Otter Lake reserve and the drawing of a horse by another child that won a drawing competition. A homeless Indigenous man sees his reaction and calls out to him. Over the course of their conversation he remembers the questions that arose from the drawing of that horse and what it meant for him, his sister, his best friend and for the girl who created the drawing.

Drew Hayden Taylor is an award-winning playwright, novelist, essayist and filmmaker. Born, raised and living on the Curve Lake First Nation, he has done everything from performing stand up comedy at the Kennedy Centre in Washington D.C. to acting as Artistic Director of Canada’s premiere Native theatre company, Native Earth Performing arts. Currently, he is working as cohost/coproducer/ and host on the second season of a travel and interest show on APTN called GOING NATIVE and developing the fourth installment of his ME series of non-fiction books.

Periodical Marketers of Canada Indigenous Literature Award

The Periodical Marketers of Canada's Indigenous Literature Award is inspired by the goals of the First Nation Communities READ program. It will provide each of the authors of the First Nation Communities READ 2020-2021 title selections with a $3,000 prize. This is the seventh year the Periodical Marketers of Canada has presented The PMC Indigenous Literature Award.

First Nation Communities READ is the Ontario First Nation Public Library Community's contribution to the popular reading movement. Launched in 2003 with support from Southern Ontario Library Service, it promotes a community-based approach to reading, FNCR:

- encourages family literacy, intergenerational storytelling, and intergenerational information sharing;
- increases awareness of the relevance and importance of First Nation, Métis, and Inuit writing, illustration, and publishing;
- promotes the publication, sharing, and understanding of First Nation, Métis, and Inuit voices and experiences.

Southern Ontario Library Service (SOLS) is mandated to deliver programs and services on behalf of the Ontario Ministry of Heritage, Sport, Tourism, and Culture Industries by:

- increasing cooperation and coordination among public library boards and other information providers to promote the provision of library service to the public;
- assisting public library boards by providing them with services and programs that reflect their needs, including consultation, training and development.
